Whoever can be trusted with little, can be trusted with much. -Luke 16:10

Mr. Nydam introduced October's theme of "stewardship" and taught the students about taking care of what they have because everything belongs to God. He illustrated how all of the things that we think belong to us (whether they are red, blue, yellow, or green things) actually belong to God because He's in charge of everything and because it all belongs to Him. Mr. Nydam used an object lesson with water and food coloring. Students made each of their individual glasses of water turn a particular color like red, blue, yellow, and green by adding food coloring. Then to illustrate how all of these things belong to God, he had the students pour their colored water into a bigger pitcher that turned into a nasty dark green-brown color. Then Mr. Nydam added a special "God" ingredient to the water, and miraculously the water turned clear (for the most part)!
