Porcia Carter

Porcia grew up in the suburbs of Minneapolis as one of the only bi-racial students in her class. After struggling with difficult peer interactions, she began to find comfort in the world in order to cope with her emotions. She quickly found herself in a downward spiral. Radically, Jesus met her at her lowest moment and called her out of darkness into light. Ever since she was rescued by Jesus, Porcia has been passionately carrying the message of the Gospel to students, empowering them to live for what matters: Jesus!

"A friend loves at all times. They are there to help when trouble come."

—Proverbs 17:17 (NIRV)

Mrs. Carter introduced September's theme of friendship by focusing on one important quality of friendship: listening. She illustrated this point by having a one-sided conversation with a student volunteer. Every time the student tried to speak, Mrs. Carter would cut him off and not let him speak. She encouraged students to have ears that listen, not just mouths that speak. Also, she encouraged students to listen to God, to their parents, their teachers, and to their friends. She concluded by highlighting Proverbs 17:17 (see bottom left) and John 13:35 that says that the world will know we follow Jesus Christ by the way we love one another.

• KIDS QUOTES •

- Jacob O. (2nd) – I love singing worship songs to God!
- Teagan O. (2nd) – I want to be kind to my friends.
- William M. (2nd) – We need to listen to what our friends are saying. That's how we can be good friends.
